The Canadair CT-114 Tutor (company model CL-41) was the Royal Canadian Air Force (RCAF), and later Canadian Forces, trainer aircraft used in Canada during the Cold War. The first of four prototypes was flown on 26 September 1958. The type entered service with the RCAF on 15 December 1959, and later with the Canadair composite training groups. The CT-114 Tutor was replaced in the RCAF's primary training role by the CT-155 Hawk.
